It can be anything.
They can literally present you with something that was never normal or something we used to do, and they'll say it is part of the "Great Reset" which will brainwash you into accepting it as a return to normal rather than the enforcement of new laws and regulations.

Basically, elites realize that world is super overpopulated and unsustainable so they're making a new system that is. However living conditions will be horrible, so they're trying to play it off as better than before. "The bugs have so much protein, much better than meat" "you willll own nothing and be happy" etc. It's essentially a marketing campaign to convince people to accept the next era of society. And of course the elites don't care how bad things get for the average guy, they'll still own things and eat meat and shit.

it's inescapable global authoritarian communism. total destruction of the middle/working class, and weakened private ownership. the powers understand between 2030-2035 the world will see the largest wealth transfer in history as boomers die-off, and leave their wealth to their progeny. they will do everything within in their power to siphon off as-much-as that wealth as possible.

Too much fake wealth bass on fake debt.
Most top corporations are basically maxed out and doing the equivalent of getting a new credit card to make minimum payments on all the other credit cards.
Only their debt is so large that even 0.1% interest is unsustainable.
Governments around the world as well as state, provincial and municipal governments also have not just too much debt, but way too many pension obligations.
They want a reset so that the Jeff Bezos and Mark Zuckerberg and Blackstone CEOs of the world can hold onto their wealth and power by making everyone else on the hook for their companies' debts. Same for the politicians who looted taxpayers.
The jig is almost up.

Hes not going to pull a Mein Kampf and tell his truth in a book like that. The point of that book is to provide some boilerplate neoliberal rhetoric talking around issues without spelling out a plan.

I can tell from the few pages posted that this thing was published to successfully bullshit the 110 IQ journalists who are trying to pretend to be smarter than they are by reading it. "the great reset is just a recognition that economies have to change for the 21st century" they will say. If you ask them what specifically needs to change and who stands to benefit from the change they will tell you to read the book and "educate yourself".

The book explains nothing, except that Klauss would never tell you what he is really up to.

I think what OP was asking is why? The reason why is that they let the banks run a 100 year pyramid scheme on us that has brought all resources and margins to their absolute breaking point and now the only thing that "couldn't fail," the dollar, is going to be so hyper inflated that it will certainly cause instability and another depression. They are probably using the threat of global nuclear war as their righteous reasoning as the 5-eyes intelligence agencies attempt to manipulate the destroy the economies and sovereignty of the english speaking countries of the world so they are more malleable for a world government and new larger even more centralized banking system. The only problem is democracy can't co-exist with this.

My best guess is that the old money NWO types were expecting to do something like this on a slower timetable like 100 years or so. But technology is changing too rapidly, and it will make their plans impossible to enforce in very short order if they don't get ahead of it.

They didn't anticipate the digital revolution, or the information revolution of the internet. You have to understand they mostly wield soft power, they control a guy who makes policy changes that middle managers enforce and you or I have to obey. No one knows who to blame in such a system and democracy tricks us into thinking these systems are accountable to someone we elected.

That kind of soft power is very hard to identify, much less resist, but it is slow acting. Just to give an example the Euro was nearly 40 years in the making, and is likely but one small stepping stone to building a global currency. Bitcoin came out in 2009 and has shattered expectations about currency, stores of value, and accountability. In less than 10 years what was basically a proof of concept became worth 350 billion dollars. With every government and regulator in the world being forced to respond to it rather than being able to control it.

The elites are shitting themselves because they need 100 years of soft power to finish their plans and the internet is going to give them 10 maybe 15 if they are lucky.

They're probably going to switch to a digital currency as well.
We always know these kikes are trying to save a buck. It must be killing them to have to pay to store all their fat stacks. Would be cheaper if money was digital.

It is firstly an economic reset in which all of the central banks of the world go full digital-only currency. No physical cash or coin.
This gives them full economic control over your life (negative interest rates to force you to spend faster, merchant restriction to keep you from buying bad things like guns and ammo, individual restrictions on your personal account if you post bad-goy memes on the 4chinz, etc.).
Full economic control allows them to then curtail all of your human rights, such as speech, religion, press, due process, etc.
TL;DR Global slavery.

>Whats the purpose
Whenever system A is dependent on system B, system B has control over system A.
In this Jewish takeover - I avoid using the name they gave it for esotherical purposes - ALL beings will ne 100% dependent on the outside system, and thus controllable slaves.

No system may rely on an external one, be it person on city, city on state, state on country, or country on international unions. Lest they become a slave to the very system they think will benefit them.

Independence on the lowest levels will break the kike's hold.

Read that one by Klaus Schwab. You know the WEF honcho. Hint: It's called "Covid 19: The Great Reset", and offers massive (leftist style) government takeover of all aspects of human life as the solution to everything, forever.

They want to roll back the Magna Carta. Which is another way of saying you won't be able to take a step without the approval of your masters, much less eat and play. Now it won't go that smoothly in practice so they need to do some damage to your body first. Getting you to wear the mask, then take the medicine without complaint are critical first steps on the road to abject slavery. If I were you I would start asking if anyone else was willing to kill their local elitists. You won't win by pretending they aren't in on the take.

Your debts are forgiven, you give up all personal property and assets.
You are a peasant with no rights.

You think they won't come to your house and confiscate anything valuable?
You think they won't kick you out of your house and move you hundreds of miles away to a tiny apartment?

Look at how the Babylonian empire used displacement to quell rebellions.

Dream on, Dream on, Dream on, Dream on, Dream on, Dream on, Dream on, AHHHH!

If they come to your house, it's okay for you to kill them. Or if you prefer, cripple them and then torture them cartel-style. They will have it coming to them.
And never let them take your guns.
